STAR OF HOPE RISES ON WORLD'S PLIGHT

HUGHES' PROPOSITION BRIGHTENS OUTLOOK

U. S. OFFERS TO AID IN EUROPEAN CRISIS

Lord Curzon's Request For Views to Meet Present Imperative Need Answered By Hughes' New Note on Financial Program.

Probe Agreed On Pay By Germany

The United States, England, France and Belgium have agreed in principle on Secretary Hughes' project of an impartial commission to investigate Germany's ability to pay reparations. Italy has long approved the plan.

France stipulates that the experts must be appointed by the reparations commission and report to that body.

Germany welcomes the examination of her capacity, but doubts whether it will produce results, due to French interference.

Dispatches from Paris indicate Poincare will oppose and reduction in the total German indemnity unless French debts to the allies are proportionately reduced.

Washington.—England's request for the views of the United States on present European conditions has been answered by Secretary Hughes restating his plan for a commission to evolve a suitable financial arrangement as outlined in his New Haven speech of nearly a year ago.

Although Lord Curzon's note was not made public, Secretary Hughes expressed the hope that the present conditions "are propituous for the consideration of such a plan, inasmuch as the abandonment of resistance on the part of the German government will present a freer opportunity and an immediate necessity for establishing an economic program" Then he emphaized that: The United States had no desire to see Germany relieved of her just obligations. That the conference proposed should be advisory, assuring impartial recommendations but not binding participating governments. That Germany's capacity to pay does not effect allied indebtedness to this government, which is a matter for congress to pass upon.

Significance is attached to fact that while Hughes' answer had been in Downing street for ten days it was given out only a few hours after Lloyd George had met the president and secretary of state. It marks the climax of a drive to break the resistance of France.

This will be the procedure in putting the conference in motion, it was understood here:

1. Great Britain is receiving the replies from the different powers to the American proposition for the conference set forth in the Hughes note to Great Britain.

2. When definite and formal acceptances have been received from all the interested powers, Great Britain will forward these acceptances, including her own, in a note to the American government.

3. Either with the forwarding of these acceptances or soon after, London formally will dispatch to the United States a joint invitation on the part of the powers for the American government to participate in the expert conference.

4. Formal conversations will be entered into with the reparations commission to secure the selection of representatives of the different countries for the conference as desired by the respective governments.

5. The conference, it is believed, will be convened in Paris, the seat of the reparations commission, which, under the conditions of the French acceptance, is to appoint the delegates to the conference with the approval of the governments.

Paris.—France is willing to discuss a new schedule of German reparations payments, but she will not accept the slightest reduction in the total sum due from Germany, was Premier Poincare's answer to the Anglo-American reparations conference movement at Sampigny, where he dedicated a war memorial and made his routine Sunday speech.

HOLLYWOOD PICTURE STUDIOS CLOSED BY OVERPRODUCTION

Los Angeles.—The report of overproduction of films that has been current for months were substantiated by the announcement that the Famous Players-Lasky studios would be closed after the productions now under way were completed and that no new pictures would be started. Other big companies are expected to follow suit, though the Goldwyn people say they will continue as usual.

One of the reforms to be inaugurated is the abandonment of costly costume pictures, suspension of a number of high-priced stars and a salary cut for others.

PUNDITAS ENTERTAIN DADS IN SPOOKDOM

By Mrs. H. A. Watrous.

Pundita Circle's Dad's Night was a very interesting adventure into the realms of boiling caldrons, dark caves, spook sentinels, and witches, the place of mystery being none other than the Union Avenue club house, transformed by Hallowe'en decorations, the committee having been assisted by J. K. Tate.

Fancy costumes, with yellow and black predominating, added much to the gaiety of the evening. Very fetching indeed was the lovely blond "Miss Yam" (D. H. Cramer) in suit and gown of the latest mode.

Games occupied part of the evening and the following program numbers were greatly enjoyed. Two piano solos by Miss Bozena Kalas; reading of Edmund Vance Cooke's "De Goofeh Jack" by Mrs. H. W. Williams; vocal duet, "Miau-Miau" by Miss Helen Kalas and L. J. Carboni, costumed as black cats. Their howling and hissing was very realistic and amusing.

Fortunes were told in a gypsy tent by Mrs. Ira Beal, and across the room Mrs. H. W. Wiliams, as the old witch, also read of the future.

The latter part of the evening was turned into a silver jubilee in honor of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Carboni. A mock marriage ceremony, performed by "parson" Wendell Thomas, assisted by M. E. Purmort, father of the bride; W. H. Stray, ring bearer; and Mrs. C. E. Hanger, little flower girl; succeeded in satisfactorily tying the nuptial knot. "Miss Yam" concluded the ceremony by singing "Oh, Promise Me" in a voice that thrilled with emotion aided by very fascinating facial expressions. A wedding breakfast was served at an appropriately decorated table, the main feature being an artistic bride's cake, the work of Mrs. J. J. Pardee.

The hostess committee and all who assisted are to be complimented upon the success of this very enjoyable party.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The three upper rooms of the C. U. G. S. enjoyed a Hallowe'en party and entertainment in the auditorium and cafeteria of the school last evening.

Witches Scene from Macbeth.
Witches Dance.
Song—Orphan't Annie.

Frog Episode on Hallowe'en.
Movie—Legend of Sleepy Hollow in Seven Real Reels.

Delicious cider and doughnuts were served and altogether the youngsters had a truly wonderful time.

FATHERS AT BIG RECEPTION

School Club Entertains at Most Successful Gathering of District Parents

The first Fathers' Night of the year to be given by the Home and School Club was a decided success both in point of attendance and of interest displayed.

Preceding the dinner a very pleasant reception was held in the kindergarten room where many acquaintances were made.

The dinner served in the cafeteria was delicious and served very expediously. Beautiful bouquets of autumn flowers and baskets of brilliant hued foliage were attractively placed around the room.

An interesting program was introduced under the direction of the president, Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, with a song by four girls accompanied by Miss Mace, who also played for Mr. Towner's cornet solos, "Out of the Dusk to You" and "Mighty Lak a Rose." Miss Dow gave two humorous readings and then Principal E. J. Cuthbertson talked about the problems of the school and stated that decisions must be made for the good of the whole and not for particular individuals.

The newly appointed school nurse stated briefly the object of her work and solicited the interested cooperation of parents.

Mrs. Lear, membership chairman, presented an invitation for new members and Mrs. W. I. Merrill explained the new plan by which Campbell becomes a part of the San Jose Community chest drive and shares in the apportionment of funds.

Judge F. B. Brown of the Juvenile Court was introduced and after entertaining the company with a group of stories, he presented the work of that branch of our civil courts and put very cleary before his hearers the responsibilities of parents in safeguarding their own and others children.

He said that he asked county probation officer what she would like him to say and her reply was "Tell those parents first of all to lock up their automobiles. Next examine your daughters' vanity bags. In most of those belonging to girls who are brought to me I find cigarettes, often liquor, and other things tending towards degredation."

If the necessity for closer supervision and chaperonage of young people could only be brought home to all parents, juvenile problems would largely be eliminated.

CLUB GIVES SHOWER FOR LIBRARY HALL

Ada Rebekah lodge held a jolly card party Saturday evening in the I. O. O. F. Hall. Progressive whist was played in the lodge room and other games were enjoyed in the banquet room, which was decorated in keeping with the Hallowe'en season.

Cafeteria refreshments were served. Plans for the evening were in charge of Mesdames Ohlen, Tucker, Burns, Lea, McQueen and Wehmeyer.

Showers are in season in California now, and one that was very productive of good fruit was held Monday afternoon for the benefit of the library kitchen. A goodly number of the Country Woman's Club with several guests enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon in the social room. Mrs. Lanphear read a jingle of lines written for the occasion, and then a guessing gamee was made of the packages which were numbered and later opened.

Mrs. Stray and Mrs. Kennedy drew for the box of candy awarded the most complete list and Mrs. Parkhill received the other.

Mrs. E. I. Price very kindly continued her travel talk, telling of the many delightful sights in Ceylon, the Malay peninsula and the East Indies. She had many interesting and beautiful souvenirs of the hand work of these countries. During the talk and conversation ice cream and cake were served by the committee.

The gifts to the kitchen were all very necessary and will help materially in the serving of refreshments and doing the necessary kitchen work. Following are the lines which Mrs. Lanphear read:

With a highbrow, warm conceit
And a dignity replete
With the things to keep it so,
Yet we all must surely know
That the Country Woman's Club
Needs must sometimes think of grub.

Just a dainty bit, perchance
Disappearing at a glance—
Too refined to pass as food
Merely a refreshment good.

So comes need of pots and pans
Dish, cloths, openers of cans;
Forks, with handles plenty long;
Knives to purchase for a song.

But why lengthen out the list.
We have caught the needed gist.
And while music fills the air
Of our Club-room bright and fair

Let us bring our gifts together
And determine them if whether
They in comfort will combine
To fit out a kitchen fine.

And perchance if we have risen
To the kitchen court decision
That can render warm approval,
Prior to our own removal
We may hope to be refreshed
As the kitchen courts' own guest.

It was a masquerade and there were many attractive and unique costumes worn.

The entertainment committee had provided a variety of stunts and games, but they seemed to have some difficuty in marshalling their hosts. However, all seemed to be having a good time.

Music, stunts by the class and serving of refreshments rounded out a full evening.

EDITORIAL ECHOES

"The Rosary" continues as the world's best selling song. It has been translated into every language. And has earned more money than any other song ever written. In popularity it threatens the supremacy even of "Dixie"; which long since became an international tune. The really phenominal part is that "The Rosary" isn't jazz, so there's still hope for the generation.

PUBLISHING THE NEWS

The news published n any newspaper naturally does not please everybody. To produce a newspaper that would gratify the whims and desires of every individual would be a difficult job and would probably result in a newsless journal. Keeping incidents out of the paper or coloring them to suit the viewpoints of certain readers is unfair to the general run of patrons.

The newspapers do not make the news. They make events public after they have happened or chronicle those which are sceduled for the future. They are not responsible for court trials, arrests, bootleg raids, labor conventions, political activities and the other happenings in daily life. It is their duty to publish what has occurred, colorless and free from editorial opinion.

The busy bee has nothing on Secretary of Labor James J. Davis. What with running the Department of Labor, playing god-father to the Independent Order of Moose and otherwise meeting the responsibilities of his varied interests, he finds 24 hours make entirely too short a day in which to get all his work done. Jimmy has recently been so busy that he couldn't find time to get to a barber shop. He managed to squeeze in a session with his safety razor most mornings—always on cabinet days—but haircuts were out of the question. Relentlessly, however, his hair kept on sprouting. At last, able to endure it no longer, he called a barber to the office. And as he clipped and snipped, the secretary dictated a few letters, listened to the reading of an important report and kept the governmental wheels spinniing with never a moment's pause.

W. C. T. U.

While missing the presence of both president and vice-president at-large, Campbell W. C. T. U. held a pleasant and profitable meeting with Mrs. Austin on Wednesday, October 24.

That all might fulfill the command not to let the left hand know what the right hand does, it was voted to gather, at each meeting unsigned reports of work done in the department of Relief and Flower Mission. Mrs. C. H. Davidson consented to accept the superintendency of this important department.

The passing of one member and iilness in the families of several others called forth expressions of sympathy and the secretary was instructed to write a number of letters of condolence. Additional items of interest occurring during the recent rummage sale was given, showing how many men, women and children were more than thankful to secure serviceable clothing, hats, shoes, etc., at trifling cost. Some bought to send poverty stricken friends in Europe.

An interesting paper was read by Mrs. Sarah Byrnes upon Child Labor, emphasizing the need of supporting the proposed Child Labor Amendment. Child Labor is a fearful blot upon America's fair name, involving loss and injury along the lines of both spiritual and material prosperity in American life. Thru Child Labor reform there are to be substitutes for Child Labor,—suitable play, suitable schooling, and suitable work, (especially under home and school auspices,) that, when children leave school they go well prepared for lives of usefulness and happiness as well.

The social hour passed quickly during which the hostesses, Mrs. Austin and Mrs. Byrnes, served delicious refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. F. C. Farr, on November 7. Members are urged to attend and bring friends and little folks. The subjects will be Child Welfare and it is expected there will be a state superintendent present who will make an address.

GROW GREAT ON GREENS

J. C. AINSLEY did the world a splendid service by originating fruit salad, and now some other canner has given us a salad composed of vegetables.

Like fruit salad, vegetable salad is winning a high place among table delights because of its intrinsic food value Necessary food elements are in each edible thing that grows. One yields this essential, another that. Incomplete alone, they approach perfection in suitable combinations.

Exubererance of health and consequent abounding good spirits will result from eating greens. All this the savants assure us. But unlike fruits, which taste good and hence have their own appeal, green vegetables are hardly palatable unless dressed up. Thanks to salad dressing, however, making greens taste good is simple. So it only remains to become interested and eat more of them—in the form of vegetable salad!

JHN Vegetable Salad combines the most popular vegetable sorts—asparagus, string beans, carrots, peas—with pimiento and olives for flavoring. Combine your own fresh vegetables as a rule, but frequently use JHN. Never be without a can of JHN Vegetable Salad for emergencies. As for expense, a customer sounded the right note the other day when she took a can and said, "It's cheaper, really, than buying all the different things." Two sizes: 35c, 25c.

JHN Kraut claims attention just now because recent discoveries in food analysis have elevated that unpoetic article, cabbage. Kraut gives us cabbage in a form easily digested. Besides certain acids in kraut are said to have special value. Still more, a can of kraut gives much good food for little money. Consider all you get in a can of JHN KRAUT at 15c!

Other JHN canned vegetables of special merit:

JHN Small whole string Beans 30c	JHN Small Colorado Peas, 25c
JHN Asparagus Tips, 50c	JHN Medium sized Peas, 20c
JHN Tall Asparagus, 50c	JHN Tiny Sugar Corn, 20c
JHN Cut String Beans, 25c	JHN Spinach, 20c

Your Saturday order will be incomplete without some of the JHN products.

Of course you'll want ISLETON BUTTER and BLAINE'S STEEL-CUT COFFEE.

MRS. MINNIE LEWIS

Mrs. Minnie Lewis, one of the oldest residents of Campbell and who has been seriously ill for nearly a year, passed peacefully away at her home on North Central Avenue last week. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the funeral parlors of W. B. Ward Undertaking Co. and interment was at Santa Clara.. Rev. W. E. Eckles and Rev. F. C. Farr conducted the services and Warren Shelly sang some of the beautiful hymns.

Mrs. Lewis was born in Mariposa, Cal., Aug. 4, 1854, and was the daughter of the late Colonel and Mrs. E. S. Terry.

She moved to Stockton when about twelve years of age and after six years went to San Francisco. In that city she was married to Charles Robert Lewis of Stockton. They made their home in Stockton and Vacaville and finally came to Campbell, where she lived for twenty-seven years.

For many years she was one of the foreladies for the J. C. Ainsley Packing Co. where she was always well liked and had a cheery word for everyone. The cannery was closed Friday afternoon to permit of the attendance of her co-workers, and the numbers at the service with the wealth of flowers, attested her popularity.

She is survived by her son, Charles L. Lewis, a sister, Mrs. J. H. Isham, and two nieces, Mrs. Dixie Drew and Mrs. Virginia Bryant, to all of whom sincere sympathy is extended, for not only they have lost a loved relative but the town mourns for a good citizen.

Proof That Zerolene Is a Better Oil

The function of a lubricant is to reduce friction and thus increase the effective power of the engine. The best proof that Zerolene does this to a superlative degree is found in the fact that a car lubricated with Zerolene delivers about 5% more gasoline mileage than when other oils are used.

One good test of the purity and stability of a motor oil is the amount of carbon it forms. Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us. For this reason the Zerolene-lubricated automobile may be driven from 25% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored.

COMMUNITY RELIEF DRIVE COMING SOON

The Campbell Relief Committee which for the past two years has been working in the town only, will this year broaden its activities. For better co-operation and greater efficiency, it has joined forces with the community Chest of San Jose. In the future the Campbell Relief Committee will cover all of the Seven School Districts which comprise the Campbell Union high school and the Campbell Union Grammar Scool districts which are Cambrian, Campbell, Hamilton, Meridian, Moorland, San Tomas, and Union.

In all this territory during the coming drive for funds, the local committee which includes a member from each district will have full charge of both the solicitations and later of the disbursements, as it has in the past, carrying out the plan of the Community Chest that each organization which in the past has made a separate drive for funds should henceforth be united in one cause. The Campbell Relief Committee will this year include in its solicitations the work of the boys of the County Y. M. C. A. The plan for subscriptions leaves the subscriber free to give either or both as he chooses.

The drive will start November 18 and run one week.

The committee believes that in forwarding this work they are help not only renderering the needed help the above named organizations should have and are entitled to, but they are decidedly helping the whole section covered by their efforts.
